Property Description

Only a few minutes from Cannes, Mandelieu La Napoule is a city that is known by private aircraft owners through its airport. Also known for its beautiful golf and port for big yachts, it is less so in his villa classified "Remarkable" built out of sight and overlooking the city, enjoying the views from the Lérins Islands to the mountains of Esterel. A panoramic sea view.

The geographical presentation so made, talking now about a villa in the style Belle Epoque, built in 1905 and set on a 6200m2 park filled with centenary trees, also remarkable. In total, 410M2 living space where will be welcome without any problems, your family but also your visiting friends, and house staff.

Note that there is still the possibility to build 300m2 of living space.

Without praising future owners, I would say that this villa is unusual for unusual people. You gift to yourself a home like this, you do not buy it.
